Student Government Initiates Action

Senate To Meet Monday; Reports Crowd Agenda

Freshmen were oriented to student government at Thursday's student body meeting. The Student Senate will swing into mobilization for the first time this year Monday evening at 7:30 in the Union's Senate Room.

Don Altmann, Student Body President, announced the following items to be on the agenda Monday night: appointment of all committees, report on Hi-Fi and a report en KWAR's program for the coming year.

Citing the pep club program a success last year, a recommendation to the Senate to continue it will be made. The Senate will also request installation of telephones and purchase of a typewriter.

5 Government Areas

Student government has five areas in its workshop, aimed to meet the demands and necessities of the student body, Altmann explained. They are as follows: Academic Life Committee, Wayne Weissenbeuhler, chairman; Public Relations Committee, Jim Schwarz; Student Activities Committee, Harry Hinrichs; Student Government Committee, headed by Executive Committee; and Student Welfare Committee with Don Staude chairman.

Weissenhuehler Hinrichs

Academic Life Committee gives a student a chance to voice his opinion. A lecture series is also sponsored.

Public Relations Committee is publicity center for all student activities. Information concerning Wartburg and all advertisements about Wartburg are their concern.

SAC Lighter Side

Student Activities Committee keeps the students informed on the lighter side of life. Areas of interest include recreational, social, religious and cultural.

Student government is concerned with carrying out and interpreting the constitution, outlining a goal for student government, representing each phase of student government, National Student Association intercollegiate relationships, and election committee.

President Don Altmann maintains that "it is not only the work of the student government Senate but of each individual" that makes a well-balanced, even-running organization.

List Exec. Committee

The executive committee for the year 1956-57 includes: President Don Altmann; Vice President Ed Schneider; Secretary Joanne Dettmann; and Treasurer LaVerne Johnson.

Choirs Add 62 Members To Ranks

Directors of the Wartburg Choir and Castle Singers are filling the vacancies in their groups left by last year's graduation by adding 62 new voices this week.

Wartburg Choir added 31 members to its group. The following freshment received positions: Catherine Beckman, Keo Miller, Carolyn Schardt, Beverly Johnson, Dolores McMahan, Joan Pilgrim, Meredith Stukmer, Dorothy Miller, Joyce Miller, Janice Malquist, Marilyn Nissen, Grayce Pumfrey, Beth Schardt and Mary Wilke.

List More Frosh

Others are Leroy Buchholz, William Jurgens, Alan Repp, Romaine Foege, Richard Grave, James Thomas, Robert Heironymus, James Pilgrim, Kenneth Schlueter, Paul Schmidt and Roger Schneider.

Sophomores include Gwenn Mueller, Janet Meyer and Lois Becker; juniors, Carrie Reisetter, Genevieve Goeman and Anne von Fischer.

Additions to the Castle Singers numbered 32, including freshmen Pat Keller, Gretchen Utke, Georgia Mikes, Sharon Hildebrandt, Carol Boemecke, Joan Foster, Donna Mueller, Don Claussen, Lemar Chester, Tom Roach, Duane Christ, Norm Litzner and Gary Hummel.

Sophs Included

Sophomores in the group are Shirley Watermiller, Joan Schlange, Avena Arends, Janet Walters, Marilyn Ross, Kathleen Maring, Barb Clasen, Marlene Stouer, Dee Larson, Phyless Hagland, Alice Anderson, Harold Schlesinger and Duane Anunsen.

Junier additions include Boh Hanneman and LaVern Johnson. Dick Brodersen, Irma Niederwimmer, Lillian Fuchs and Helen Niederwimmer are new senior members.

Players Sorting Garb During LT Workshop

Costumes littered the Little Theater today as Wartburg Players commenced sorting newly acquired costumes purchased this summer.

"Anyone wanting to help this afternoon should come down to the Theater during any available time," said Jan Froelich, head of the costume department.

The day of work will be climaxed with a dress-up party this evening at 8 in the Little Theater.

BBB Names Slate For Coming Year

Elected were George Herbener, vice president; Erwin Janssen, historian; and Shirley Sekas, secretary-treasurer. Senior LaVerne Buldhaupt, president, was elected last spring.

TRACTOR TROUBLE was just the beginning as last night's hay riders prepared to embark.

Seek Reserve Unit Here

Wartburg men are being urged to attend an Army Reserve meeting to be held at 7:30 Monday night for the purpose of explaining the Army Reserve program.

According to Jack Bailey, president of the Waverly Chamber of Commerce, the armed forces is interested in establishing a reserve branch in Waverly. This is because of the Armed Forces Reserve Act of August, 1955, which requires all service personnel to complete six years of training either of active or inactive status.

S Year Duty

According to this law all service personnel must serve at least five of their six year periods on active duty or in the active reserve. The sixth year may be spent in the inactive reserve.

25 Minimum

A minimum of 25 men from Waverty, including both men from Wartburg College and the surrounding area, is needed to establish a permanent unit in town.

The importance of this meeting should not he underestimated, according to Norm Fintel, Wartburg Public Relations director. Fintel made this statement: "The importance of having a unit in Waverly becomes quite urgent when the Reserve Law of August,1955, is considered. It would be much more convenient for young men to attend training in Waverly than to drive to Waterloo, the nearest training center at present."

Picture This!

Underclass pictures for this year's Fortress will be taken in tha Wartburg Hall Lounge, Sept. 17-21, according to senior Dick Larson, yearbook editor.

Pictures will be taken from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday by Hollett Studios of Waterloo. A charge of 75 cents will be collected when pictures are taken. This fee includes retouching.

Stadium Up October 27

October 27 is an important date. Go to the college athletic field, sit in the new stadium and cheer the Knights.

College officals have received word from the Pittsburg-Des Moines Steel Company that the material for the all-steel stadium, which will seat 960 fans on redwood covered bleachers, will arrive in Waverly Oct. 2 and, with good weather conditions, may be ready for the second home game Oct. 13 with Iowa Wesleyan.

UIU At Municipal

Arrangements meanwhile are heing made to play the first home game, Sept. 22 with Uppec Iowa University, on the Waverly Municipal Field. In all probability, the first game to he played on the campus will be the Homecoming contest with Central, Oct. 27. All games on the college field will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Due to the prolonged steel strike, the delivery date of the new stadium was set back several weeks, and officials feared it would not he finished in time for the current foothall season.

16 Tiers High

Sixteen tiers high, the stadium will be topped by a steel and glass enclosed press box, which will include a special booth for radio station KWAR. A neon scoreboard has already arrived and will be erected at the south end of Knights' field.

FOR WANDERING MUSICIANS

Fine Arts Center - 'Just Fine'

By Mary Maas

Knights Gym has been returned to the Phy. Ed. Department, Business Administration and Greek now occupy Old Main, and Wartburg Music and Art are now housed in the latest addition to the college campus.

Situated in the southwestern sector of the campus, this multileveled brick structure contains classrooms, rebearsal facilities for instrumental and vocal groups, offices, art studios and practice facilities.

The Art Department is located en the top story, with ene large classroom and three smaller studios for different types of artistic activity.

According to Miss Helen Wright, department bead, "It is planned specifically for Wartburg's needs and is adaptable to our prohlems—that each individual should enjoy something in the arts and each individual has different art interests."

"SPIEL" says band director Ernest Hagen as he directs saction rehearsal in the new Fine Arts Center.

Instrumental On First

The instrumental music department is located on the ground floor on the north side. According to Ernest Hagen, band director, the acoustics in the rehearsal room are excellent.

Choir rehearsal facilities are located in the central part of the building. This room can also he used as a recital hall with a 250 seating capacity.

Offices and studios for the teaching faculty and rehearsal rooms for vocal, organ, piano and instrumental students are located in the one-story wing on the south side.

Dedication In October

Formal dedication of the Fine Arts Center will he held during October. Included in the week-long celebration are special recitals, lectures and concerts.

The place may be different, hut Wartburg's long musical history continues.

Green Beanies – Golden Rule

It happens every fall.

Just as surely as death and registration, each September when the Freshman Class sees Wartburg for the first time, that great, green ogre raises its beanied head on campus.

Initiation as a tradition is almost as old as the college itself. Over many long years it has become respected as an instrument that enables the upperclassmen to become better acquainted with the freshmen and the freshmen to become better acquainted with the school and with themselves.

Unfortunately abuses of the tradition also pop up at initiation time and often destroy completely, much of the constructive effort of others. These abuses run about the same from year to year.

There is always the fellow that is so greatly impressed with the fact that he is now an upperclassman that he spends all his time bullying frosh and proving that he doesn't possess the maturity that his classification should indicate. It is always rather grimly humorous, too, to reflect that these inordinate "whipcrackers" were the ones who cooperated the least when they were under the green beanie.

Initiation is yet to be completed at Wartburg. It can still turn out to be a good initiation or a bad one. The way the students conduct themselves - now, during Outfly, at Kangaroo Kort, will determine if they have the maturity they are asking the freshmen to display.

Here is what Charles W. Gilkey, then dean of the Rockerfeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago, had to say about it several years ago in a paraphase of the story of the Good Samaritan. It has appeared on these pages before. It bears repeating.

"A eertain Freshman went from home to college and she fell among critics who said that she had no style, that ber manners were awkward and that she had an unattractive personality. Tben they stripped her of her self-confidence, her enthusiasm and ber courage, and departed leaving her burt, lonely and half-dead.

"And when the Seniors saw it, they were amused saying, 'What a good job the Sophomores are doing on that Freshman': and they passed by on the other side.

"In like manner the Juniors also, when they saw it, smiled and said, 'Yea, verily, for she hath not the making of a good sorority girl'; and they passed by on the other side.

"But a certain special student, as she went about, came where tbe Freshman was, and when she saw the Freshman she was moved with compasion, and came to her and bound up her wounds, pouring in sympathy and understanding; and she took tbe Freshman to her room and set her on ber feet again, and brought her into ber own circle and was a friend to her.

"Which of tbese, thinkest thou, proved a neighbor to her that fell among the critics? Go and do thou likewise!"

Knight Beat

by Bob Loslo

The name tags that Wartburgers have been wearing during initiation are fine studies in symbolism. The freshmen wear orange, the school color, indicating that they actually are a part of the school. No freshie need be reminded what unsavory connotation is associated with tbe sophs' yellow tags, and being a junior, I find nobility in the color blue. But the seniors have orange tags again, indicating that they're right back where they started from.

Usually when an occasion is forced formality, as is tha case in Wednesday night cafeteria dining, tablecloths are provided. Think about this, Wartburg administration, or is this strictly a one-way deal?

Oh, well, it's too cold to wear walking shorts anyway. And, besides, red walking shorts don't go well with orange and black caps.

Boy journalists, Harold Kurtz and Duane Schroeder, got themselves into an unusual situation last Wednesday while they were distributing Wartburg football schedules throughout the local communities. Things went O.K. in New Hampton, Oelwein, Tripoli and Sumner. But it seems they ran into a little trouble with a few irate citizens of Fayette. In case you didn't already know, (Kurtz and Schroeder apparently didn't) Upper Iowa University is located at Fayette.

And my, my, aren't thsre any Democrats on campus? Young Democrats president, Bill Melvin, went to a freshman class meeting to recruit, and ona sole underclassman volunteered. Bill says that now he could imagine how Harry Truman felt when Stevenson got the nod over Harriman at the Dems' convention.

It's only a rumor that the club project this year for the Music Appreciation Club is to blow up the juke box in the Den. They must have wheeled that juke box out of some tavern and brought it around when school started. I'd hate to think that those Elvis Pressley records were deliberately picked as college-level enjoyment.

WHAT IN THE WORLO

And If I'm Elected

By Don Oberdorfer

A few short weeks ago the national spotlight sbone brilliently on the national conventions as tbey acclaimed their choice of candidates for tbe Presidency across the nation. The Democrets, in golden speeches, urged the people to return tbe control to the party whicb would best benefit the eountry. This, of course, referred to themselves.

Tbe Republicans, on the other hand, moved easily through a complacent, self-assured convention. The party re-nominated the team that won in '52. This done, the delegates returned home satisfied that they would sweep the country in the November elections.

Oberdorfer

Suddenly, a few days before both parties launched their campaigns, a startling and totally unexpected event occurred.

Maine, long Republican, threw over the ropes of ancient rule and threw a Democratic hat into the ring. Governor Muskie, a veteran at the game, soundly defeated his Republican opponent for the gubernatorial seat. Republican seekers for a seat in Congress also felt the heavy blow.

The oft-quoted "As Meine goes, so goes the nation" rang loudly once again. Democrats gleefully rubbed their hands togetber and smiled knowingly at the Republicans. Stevenson, gratified at this turn of events, speculated on the signifieance of this in the coming elections. This could possibly set e standard for future developments. For it is known, be mused, that Maine often influences its neigbboring states.

Eisenhower chuckled gamely as he putted the last ball into the hole. This was just one of those unfortunate incidents that make up the life of a politician. This, after all, is no reason to expect that the rest of the nation would follow in Maine's footsteps. After all, there is always tomorrow. A philosophical shrug of the shoulders and another majestic swing.

The actual point is this: Unless the Republicans begin their active participation in this business of campaigning, they will soon find themselves blowing on their fingers to keep them warm. The election may seem one-sided to them, but the race is not won until the last vote is counted and victory proclaimed.

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Christ, Our Savior, Not Philosopher

By John Beem
Chi Rho President

The most famous Bible verse and probably the verse that could be singled out as having the most significant meaning to us as Christians, John 3:16, would have no meaning to us were it not for the fact that there is an afterlife.

We think of Christ primarily as our Savior, and we are correct in such a belief. But this conviction has become so much a part of us that we overlook the fact that Christ eould not be our Savior were it not for the eternity which God has prepared for us.

Beem

We must be saved from something, or else a savior is not necessary. This is en easily fulfilled requirement is not necessary. This is an to the omnipresence ef sin in our world. We definitely must be saved from one thing—sin. That is what Christ means by hating the world. He means us to hete sin and to help others subdue the same threat.

Although God has prepered a place for us which will be so much more enjcyeble and beautiful than our world, I'm sure that God still means for us to hate only the sin in the world and not the rest of the world which God has so miraculously created. Would he create a flower, e bee, a bird or a man if he were destined only for a life of hating and being hated? Remember, we have a God of love.

But just as we must be saved from something, we also must be saved for something. That is why an afterlife is so important. Without an eternity there could still have been the man, Christ. But then Christ would have been no more than a Plato, an Aristotle, or the like. He could only heve been to this modern world a mortai example of an ideai life for us to pattern ours after. But by merely inserting an afterlife into this picture, we have a Christ who is more then just an example. He is still an example, but, more then that, He is now our Savior.

Thus it is thet eternity always was a primary doctrine in God's plan for the world and for man. That, together with the love of God, is why we have a Savior. Since there is an afterlife, John 3:16 does have meaning and value for each one of us. Because there is an eternity to be saved for, we Christians have a meaningful and e saving faith.

Injuries, Lack of Line Depth Give Grey Hair to Johansen

By Bill Melvin

Injuries and lack of depth in the line worried Coach Norman Johansen this week as he pointed his 1956 Wartburg football team toward its opener with Upper Iowa next Saturday.

All-conference center Bob Kruger and sophomore tackle LaVern Juergen are both currently sidelined with back injuries, and backfield man Les Ruth has also been downed by an injury.

Loss Of Keister Hurts

Loss of Keister and Kruger has aggravated the line situation where few lettermen are returning. Arnie Brandt, junior guard from Waverly, has been one bright spot in the line situation despite the fact this is his first year of college football. Freshmen Ron Sabbag and Lord Pelland have been coming along well in practice and may help ease the load.

Well definitely suffer from lack of weight in the line this year," said Johansen. "Most of our linemen are under 200 pounds."

Veterans Ray Boyens and Dave Reiff have been leading the candidates at the ends with Roger Klingman, Al Limberg, Curt Edwards and Dick Schneider bolstering the lineup positions with their experience.

Lettermen Stock Backfield

Art Magdsen, Ralph Wolken, Darwin Pietz and Delton Rose, all lettermen, are stocking the backfield drills, but Johansen added that freshman Larry Meyer from Fontanelle is showing real potential.

Johansen summed up the current situation of the squad by saying, "We still have a lot of work to do before we play our opener with Upper Iowa."

The Knights will have an opportunity to work against Upper Iowa offensive and defensive patterns during the coming week from reserves of members of the coaching staff who will scout the Peacock opener against La Crosse this evening.

Bomhoff, Bahlmann To 'W' Club Posts

Seniors Bill Bomhoff and Al Bahlmann were elected to the offices of vice president and secretary-treasurer at the first meeting of the Wartburg "W" Club.

Bob Campbell of the athletic department was selected as advisor to the group. The "W" Club athletic letterwinners organization on campus, elected Maynard Mudgaard as its president last spring.

IM Program Starts Tues.

Intra-mural activity begins Tuesday when the first flag football games are played. An anticipated eight teams will enter competition in the newly-expanded IM program.

Frahm

College bowling gets underway Wednesday on the local alleys. A special meeting of all team captains is scheduled for Tuesday evening.

Fall tennis is slated to begin in two weeks, while the fall golf tournament is slated for the weekend of Oct. 6 on the city course.

The intra-mural committee, headed by Junior Mel Frahm has set up a complete sports program designed to attract all students. Team and individual activities are planned for the remainder of the year.

Heading the IM football program is Bill Thalacker, senior, while Fred Jaspers, junior, is in charge of the college bowling program.

WAA Prospects Picnic At River

Women's Athletic Association held its annual fall picnic at Riverside Park Wednesday evening. Purpose of the outing was to become acquainted with prospective freshman members.

Fran Nancy Hahn, junior, announced. The club is planning another busy year with badminton and ping-pong opening the fall slate followed by basketball will be the main sports during the winter season with tennis and softball rounding out the school year.

Archery is also tentatively scheduled as an addition to the program this year, added Miss Mijta.

All women students interested in sports recreation are urged by the WAA president to attend the weekly meetings held every Wednesday evening.

IN FORTY-FIRST YEAR

'Pops' Headline Artist Series

By Marsha Arhart

Arthur Fiedler and the "Pops" The Vienna Octet . . . Stockholm Gosskor . . . these and others are the headliners as the Wartburg College Artist Series starts its 41st year.

This year's Artist Series will open on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 8 p.m. with an appearance of the renowned Stockholm Gosskor, Sweden's most famous boy choir. Its performance will climax a weekend of colorful Homecoming events.

Gosskor On Sullivan Show

The Stockholm Gosskor will appear on the Ed Sullivan television show, Sunday, Sept. 30 at 8:00 p.m. in the first American visit of the Swedish choir. It has toured through most of Europe.

"We're anticipating a very large crowd for this outstanding number," commented Dr. A. W. Swenson, chairman of the Artist Series Committee.

Series Started In 1916

Wartburg College has tried to have some cultural entertainment since about 1916, according to Dr. Swenson.

"However, only in the last fifteen years has the Wartburg College Artist Series been nationally recognized," Swenson continued.

The second Artist Series program will present an exciting new adaptation of the opera "The Secret Marriage." This dramatic production will be on Tuesday, Nov. 20, when the Bella Goldovsky opera theater takes the stage.

Virginia Trotter, musician who will compose the Artist Series, which will appear on the campus Sunday, Jan. 27, will highlight another concert about the Germanic musical heritage by being graduates of the Eastman School of Music.

Appearing for the fourth time in five years, Artist Fiedler and The Boston Pops Band have been heartily accepted in thousands of cities. Because of an overwhelming demand, Fiedler and the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra will return to present a program of light music carefully calculated to appeal to every taste.

Final Final Number

The final number on the 1956-57 Artist Series will be a piano recital on Feb. 27 by Don Hamilton, junior and member of the Artist Series committee, explained, "Last year's series representatives from various historical companies came and presented the different artists available for our Artist Series. From those groups we selected a variety that we hope will please everyone."

In addition to concerts, three Specialty Series programs will also be presented. The first of these will be an illustrated lecture by Demitri Rebikoff on Sunday, Nov. 11. His film is entitled "Secrets of the Underwater World—The Red Sea."

Harp Recital Scheduled

Harpist Marjorie Newsom will give a recital on Sunday, Dec. 2. The final Specialty Series program on Jan. 13 will bring Louis J. Alber, author and foreign correspondent, to the campus. He will discuss "The Explosive Middle East and the Russian Bear Advances South."

Panel Ponders Luther League Fate

It there a necessity for a campus-wide religious organization?

This will be the topic discussed by the panel of student and faculty members in the Little Theater tomorrow, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Students and interests interested in exploring the possibility of a student religious organization on campus are invited to attend this meeting. The objective of the discussion is to determine if there is a need for such an organization and if established what its function would be.

The type of organization which will be proposed at the discussion will not be connected in any manner with the campus Lutheer League or the Lutheran Students Association.

The panel will consist of faculty and student body members with Joy Eisenhaur serving as moderator. Other members of the panel will be Bobert Smith Speech Department, Jim Roever, senior; Glinda Heins, Ann Fimmen, Erwin Janssen, Ronald Martin, all juniors, and Marlene Hadeck, sophomore.

Fricke At Confab On Alcohol

Vincent Fricke, senior, attended the International School of Alcohol Studies at the University of Chicago during the latter part of August. Fricke had received a scholarship for his prize-winning editorial on alcohol.

Dr. Seegers Gives Books

A group of volumes, including copies of the original Journals of the Lewis and Clark expedition, were donated to the college the latter part of this summer.

Dr. Walter Seegers of Wayne University, Detroit, Mich., was the donor of this gift. In the past Dr. Seegers has made several similar contributions to the college.

Early Editions Included

These books include early editions. The original journals of the Lewis and Clark expedition are among the collections along with other titles of classical interest.

Seegers is a graduate of Wartburg Academy and Wartburg Junior College. He received his B.A., M.S. and Ph.D. from the State University of Iowa. In 1933 Wartburg awarded him an honorary doctor of science degree.

Other Changes Made

The library has experienced other changes this summer, such as the additional reading space. This was made possible by moving the card catalog and the magazine index book into the lobby.

Return To Class

Dr. Edwin T. Sandberg, English Department, and Raymond Norheim, History Department, were recently released after a brief stay in the hospital, and both are doing fine.

Azbells Attend Rites

William Azbell was called away unexpectedly because of the accidental death of his two brothers, in an auto collision.
